

BISHOP POTTER LEFT ESTATE TO CHILDREN

Second Wife Not Mentioned in Will of Prelate, Which Was Filed To-Day.

The will of the late Bishop Henry Codman Potter was filed to-day. It was dated Nov. 25, 1906, and leaves the entire estate to the five children of the Bishop. Mrs. Clara Sidney Davidge, Mrs. Jane Russell, Mrs. Mary Hyde, Miss Sarah L. Potter and Alonzo Potter. There is no mention of the second Mrs. Potter in the will.

Alonzo Potter and Charles Holland Russell, the Bishop's son-in-law, are named as executors and the will was filed by the latter's law firm, Stetson, Jennings & Russell. The petition says the Bishop left more than $10,000 in personal and more than $10,000 in real estate.

(Old Stewart Building)

Store Closes
at 6 P. M.

It is an inspiration, to walk through this fine, dignified old building, during these Autumn days when the merchandise products of the world are so lavishly and artistically displayed. The store never before looked so beautiful as now. Never were stocks so splendidly assorted and so entertainingly displayed. The magnificent DRESS GOODS SALONS possess enthralling interest for women. Every weave and texture is here, and every color-play that dyes know. Women tell us that it is so delightfully original to find the fabrics displayed SO THAT THEY CAN BE FREELY SEEN. So different from having to ask to see this and that, and then never seeing half that even an ordinary store has to show. But, of course, there is not another Dress Goods Store anywhere that has roomy salons, where such satisfying displays could be made, even if they had space to assemble such exhaustive stocks. This is just one example of why the New WANAMAKER'S is so fascinating to women this Fall.

Magnificent Black Fur Cloths at $2.75 a Yard

Not a yard was made to sell for less than $5.50. Others were $6 and $7.50. But the importer wanted to turn them over quickly.

You have probably seen these warm, luxurious fabrics. Made up into coats, it will puzzle anybody but an expert to tell that they are not real furs. They are serviceable, protective, handsome, and in exactly the proper effects, to be in style with the popular furs this season—black caracul, broadtail and baby lamb—truly wonderful reproductions of the real furs.

Widths 48 to 54 inches—3 1/2 yards, making a three-quarter length coat, for an investment of $9.63. Originally that length would have cost $19.25 to $26.25. Now $2.75 a yard. Dress Goods, First floor, Old Building.

Women's Fall Suits at $30

You may get a general idea of the graceful lines of this charming model from the picture, but you will not realize the unusually fine values the suits present at their very special price, until you see the expert tailoring and excellent finish they show, equal to that of custom-made garments.

The Suits are made in the same style as the picture, in black, blue, green, wistaria, brown and smoke. The single-breasted coat is 42 inches long, with a half-fitted back, trimmed with bias cloth and ornaments of satin, giving the new short-waisted effect, the seams are slashed, forming points on side. The coat is fastened with two large satin-covered buttons, and has large revers trimmed with bias folds of velvet and satin, high turnover collar, fastened with satin scarf, close-fitting sleeves with turned-back cuffs of velvet, and is lined throughout with satin.

The skirt is a new close-fitting, gored model, buttoned on left side with large satin buttons, finished with velvet and bias strapping of satin. Second floor, Old Building.

Box calfskin is a splendid, serviceable leather, the grain surface is better than the smooth finished sort—don't scuff so easy—and it takes a fine polish. Boys' shoes of this leather, sizes 1 to 8 1-2, at $2.40 and $3; sizes 10 to 13 1-2, at $2 and $2.50. Girls' Shoes, at $2, $2.50 and $3.
